SEATING SOLUTIONS FOR LEARNING

9to5® seating

learning today

Fluid areas that adapt to changing concepts are the trademark of active learning facilities. Students are learning together, collaborating in groups and interacting with teachers. New tools and teaching methods allow learning to happen anywhere, at any time. Schools and campuses continue to inspire and support a community of learning through meaningful connections among students, faculty and administrators.

choose 9to5 seating

9to5 Seating collections are designed to support the transformation in how we learn. Each series plays an important role in bringing comfort, durability, sustainability and versatility to learning environments. 9to5 Seating is headquartered in Hawthorne, California.

value oriented

Our total value pricing means our products help you make the most of your financial resources.

the difference is in the details

We help you maximize every space by thinking about every last detail: quality, comfort, sustainability and express shipping.

durability and high performance

Each and every product is designed to hold up to the demands of student life and is backed by a lifetime warranty.

sustainability

9to5 Seating is committed to sustainable and environmentally responsible business practices. This global perspective is endorsed and executed throughout every aspect of our corporate culture, and within our warehousing, manufacturing and office facilities. All of our products are LEVEL® 2 certified and HÅG Capisco has achieved LEVEL 3.

lecture seating

Kip is ideal for large and small lecture spaces. Its light mesh look provides a sense of space and the optimal amount of tension, relieving pressure points and maximizing comfort for a satisfying sit.

one space. infinite possibilities.

Multi-purpose areas are on the rise. One space can host comfy lounges, individual workstations, group settings, and more. This requires flexible seating in a variety of sizes to support a broader range of learning.

creating centers of collaboration

Libraries are becoming learning commons, requiring areas for group work in addition to individual study. Students need areas throughout the day where they can settle when not engaged in class or group work.

fostering community and connection

The spaces outside the classroom are working harder than ever. Not only do they define campus culture and character, they fulfill a variety of functions. Comprised of lounges, various table shapes, chairs and stools, these areas provide a comfortable place for people to put their feet up, huddle up and power up.

bringing people together

Throughout the day, café and dining spaces are in constant transition. Students come and go and tackle various activities while enjoying a cup of coffee, snack or a meal.

Mobile side chairs with details like built-in pull handles, stackable frames and easy-to-clean materials are ideal for multi-use spaces that require quick setups and breakdowns. Keep things flexible and easy to rearrange with lightweight models that you can swing around to accommodate the flow of high-traffic areas.

more productive office hours

Maximize productivity on private work, or with students and colleagues. Comfortable and supportive seating welcomes visitors and puts everyone at ease.

Office space is changing, too. Rising property costs, multi-generational workforces and new ways of working are influencing how we approach the office environment. From traditional, private environments to hybrid spaces, these office environments now include touchdown spaces, collaborative areas and meeting spaces.
