Part of the Solution: 9to5 Seating Embraces Environmental Responsibility

Manufacturer Receives LEVEL 3 Certification on Top-Selling Products

(HAWTHORNE, CA – AUGUST 1, 2022) — 9to5 Seating is committed to sustainable and environmentally responsible business practices. This global perspective informs every aspect of its corporate culture, from warehousing to manufacturing to its office facilities to its community.

Aiming to boldly change how furniture designers and manufacturers operate, 9to5 Seating has prioritized environmental responsibility. The manufacturer has earned LEVEL 2 certification on all its products, with HÅG Capisco and HÅG Capisco Puls receiving an almost unprecedented LEVEL 3 certification—the highest ranking. To secure LEVEL certification, 9to5 Seating demonstrated that its manufacturing facility and company create “environmentally preferable and socially responsible” furniture that contributes to sustainable building ratings. LEVEL 3 is the highest product ranking, similar to a platinum ranking in the LEED rating system.

9to5 Seating is steadfast in its commitment to its communities and the planet. It works smart, selecting materials carefully so that its products don’t just support the fight against climate change, but become part of the solution.
