Collaborative space

Focused on well-being in the workplace, the STAD collection meets the many needs of open-plan offices, with perfectly integrated collaborative and meeting areas. Shared work surfaces (with asymmetrical lines that foster discussion), shared storage systems and lockers have been added. Airy, well-thought-out and highly functional, STAD creates a mainly open workspace that is conducive to teamwork and communication.

The art of living at the office

More than just office furniture, the STAD collection is a professional lifestyle. The countless configurations adapt to every environment and to users' day-to-day needs. The components can be reconfigured time and again, with adjustable tables, modular soft seating and poufs for greater comfort and better posture.

Made with high-quality raw materials (wood, metal, textile and laminate), this collection brings nature into the office, for a calm, vibrant atmosphere.

Taking a short break lets your brain rest and recharge. You'll be able to concentrate better when you get back to work.

Add a splash of green!

The color green helps improve concentration and memory.

Privacy, please!

Anticipating market expectations, Groupe Lacasse designed the STAD collection with user comfort in mind. When a project requires concentration and planning, the components provide all the privacy needed.

Fabric screens, cushions and poufs also optimize comfort and well-being, making the space feel like home.
